

Albins Racetrans sponsor Super 1650 Class of the Wittitrin 200

Albins and Racetrans have combined forces to sponsor the Super 1650 Class in the Wittitrin 200 Off Road race to be held at Kempsey 11/12 July 2009.

Albins are a specialist company involved in the design and manufacture of transmissions, gear sets, and performance parts for motorsport, with a focus on quality products and customer satisfaction. Trading as Albins Off Road Gear the company was established in 1978 and now employs a staff of 40+. In the past 17 years Albins Off Road Gear has grown a strong presence in the global market, exporting over 90% of its product range to the United States.

The Kempsey agent for Albins Off Road Gear is Racetrans, a company operated by the father and son combination of Ron and Kaleb Schmidt. Established over 20 years Racetrans specialises in transmission design, rebuilds, and crack testing.

Ron Schmidt has a vast knowledge of race transmissions, particularly in the Off Road Racing arena, having competed for more than 27 years, winning 5 Australian Off Road Championships. In recent times Ron has navigated for son Kaleb, who is an accomplished competitor in the Super 1650 Class, competing in select Rounds of the Australian Off Road Championship. The duo has proven a formidable combination on and off the race track.

Dealing directly with Steven Nicholson and Ivan Albins ensures that Racetrans is kept up to date with all the latest technology, and can source the entire Albins Off Road Gear product line at short notice.

Racetrans also has strong ties with US Company Weddle Industries, who specialise in performance transaxle products.

Hayden Bentley, Terry Rose, Doug McMillan, and Bob Mowbray are just some of the well known names in Off Road Racing who have tasted success by utilising the services of Racetrans.
